

FAIRFAX COUNTY POLICE DEPARTMENT

ACTIVITY REPORT

SEPTEMBER 18, 2009

ACTIVITIES REPORTED THROUGH SEPTEMBER 16, 2009

PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICE -- 703-246-2253

There are three sections in this report: Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS; Section II: PROPERTY CRIMES; and, Section III: ANIMAL RELATED INCIDENTS. Sections are appropriately identified. Within the sections, incidents are organized by station, then by type of offense. They are listed alphabetically by street address.

Addresses shown indicate blocks and not specific locations. Thus an entry showing Chain Bridge Road 4100 would mean the 4100 block of Chain Bridge Road, not the address 4100 Chain Bridge Road.

An asterisk (*) before an item indicates that an incident report was distributed on that offense.

Section I: MAJOR INCIDENTS

COUNTYWIDE

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY WEEK

*For the first time, the Fairfax County Police Department, in partnership with Drive Smart Virginia and BikeWalk Virginia, enacted Virginia Cycling and Pedestrian Awareness Week in an effort to improve public awareness on the safety concerns surrounding cycling and walking along our congested roadways. Last year, four people died while walking or cycling in Fairfax County. So far, in 2009, ten people have lost their lives under these tragic circumstances. Police, transportation and safety partners hope to reduce these numbers by increasing public knowledge of roadway regulations and safe behaviors. The Fairfax County Police Department and Department of Transportation offer the following basic tips to help make roadways safer for all users:

- Allow a safety cushion. Slow down, wait until the roadway is safe for passing cyclists and walkers and pass with at least three feet of clearance.
- Yield right-of-way to pedestrians in marked and unmarked crosswalks.
- Remember vehicle extensions. A side mirror or trailer can be deadly for people walking or biking.
- Understand that the smallest bump to a cyclist or pedestrian can be fatal.
- Minimize distractions. Distracted drivers are more likely to hit cyclists and pedestrians.
- Do not assume ill intent and become frustrated by fellow cycling and pedestrian travelers.

Police remind motorists that laws are designed to keep everyone moving smoothly and safely and there are some basic facts to keep in mind:

- Motorists are required to approach and pass bicyclists at a reasonable speed and allow at least two feet between vehicle and cyclist. (Three feet is even better) -A bicycle is considered a vehicle in Virginia and has the same "duties and rights" as other vehicles on the road, including obeying all traffic signs, signals, lights and markings. A bicycle should always travel in the same direction as motor vehicle traffic. Cyclists are not permitted to ride on interstates or other controlled access roadways.
- Motorists are required to use signals to notify other roadway users of intent and cyclists must do the same using proper hand signals. Behaving in a predictable manner while driving, biking or walking can reduce the risk of crashes.
- Cyclists can also protect themselves by wearing a helmet, bright clothing, using flashing lights during day and night and securing loose pant legs or other loose clothing.
- Pedestrians can improve their safety by wearing bright colors during the day and reflective material or blinking lights at night. Light colored clothing is slightly helpful in increasing night-time visibility; reflective tape or fabric is much better.
- All road users should be aware of their surroundings, including blind spots. Be aware of "inattention blindness" and use extra caution when road changes are present, such as hidden entrances and exits.
- Pedestrians must travel against traffic when walking in the road, use sidewalks whenever available, and marked crossings instead of crossing at mid-block. Motorists and cyclists must yield to pedestrians in crosswalks, both marked and unmarked, when making a right turn on red, or as instructed by law enforcement officers or traffic control devices.

- Local ordinance determines use of sidewalks by bicycles and other alternative devices. When permitted to be on sidewalks, bicycles should yield right-of-way to any pedestrian and give an audible signal (voice) before overtaking and passing a pedestrian. The 37-year-old woman was walking outside around 10:32 a.m. when the raccoon approached and bit her on the leg. Officers could not locate the raccoon, but their investigation determined that earlier in the morning around 7:45, a raccoon bit one man's shoe as he was walking and another man's dogs came into contact with a raccoon. RABIES CLINIC

Columbia Pike 6500
* For the first time, the Fairfax County Animal Shelter will take its low-cost rabies vaccination clinic on the road to Annandale, hosting the Sept. 20 clinic at the Mason District Government Center. The cost for rabies shots at the clinic is $12.00 per dog, cat or ferret. All pets will receive a one-year rabies vaccination. To obtain a three-year vaccination, citizens must bring their pet's rabies certificate showing the animal's current rabies vaccination and vaccination expiration date. Rabies certificates will be issued, no tags. All dogs should be on leashes and all cats and ferrets should be in carriers.

Fairfax County 2009 dog licenses will be sold separately at the clinic and cost $10.00 for dogs. The Annandale clinic is a partnership with the office of Supervisor Penelope A. "Penny" Gross and the Mason District station of the Fairfax County Police Department and is sponsored by the Fairfax County Animal Shelter and Deepwood Veterinary Hospital. "This rabies clinic will give "Inside the Beltway" pet owners an easy option to improve their pets' health," Supervisor Gross says. For more information about the rabies clinic at the Mason District Government Center, please call (703) 830-1100.
